

Gambling By Key Official Led To Housing Inquiry

Washington (AP) — Reports of gambling by a key official of the Federal Housing Administration helped touch off the investigation of the scandal-jolted agency, Housing Chief Albert M. Cole disclosed last night.

The Washington Post and Times-Herald said the FBI received a report that this unnamed official lost as much as $5,000 in a single night at the gambling table. This would be about half his annual salary.

Cole said he had no knowledge of a $5,000 loss, but added:

"I do know one official is known in some circles to be a gambler. He is in a responsible position. I had his situation in mind when I began the investigation."

Cole announced last night he has uncovered evidence of "incredible" official laxity. The charges are that householders were fleeced by high pressure home repair salesmen and that some apartment builders reaped a multimillion dollar harvest by means of inflated, government-guaranteed construction loans.

Cole continued to shake up the top echelon of FHA, and called Justice Department, FBI and other officials to a conference today looking for possible criminal prosecutions.

President Eisenhower directed all federal agencies to cooperate fully in the investigation.

Cole announced that Burton C. Bevard had refused to resign as general counsel of FHA at Cole's request and "has been placed on leave." There was no indication, however, that he was the official linked to the reports of gambling.

In telling of his crackdown actions to date, Cole said:

"In the next few days we will make such other removals as are necessary to insure a free, swift, uninhibited investigation of all relevant FHA matter," Cole said, adding:

"I expect in a fairly short time, with the vigorous cooperation that we are receiving from the Department of Justice and the Bureau of Internal Revenue, to develop cases possibly leading to prosecution and to take any additional steps needed for full administrative cleanup in the FHA that I have been undertaking."

The Washington Post said failure of the FHA's high command to take vigorous action in following up the FBI report about gambling, as well as other reports of abuses in FHA's nationwide operations, prompted the White House to order a clean sweep of the agency's upper echelon.

The newspaper said the gambling loss report has instigated an all-out FBI check into the personal financial affairs of an unspecified number of FHA officials and employees both in Washington and in field offices.

Three Democratic members of Capeworth's committee said they would resist any effort to focus attention on the alleged apartment house manipulations, which took place in the Truman administration, while soft-pedaling reports of home repair swindles of more recent dates.

McGinnis Wins Proxy Count

New Haven, Conn. (AP) — Control of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad passed to Patrick B. McGinnis and his supporters as a proxy count that started at 2 p.m. Wednesday wound up at 7:30 a.m. yesterday.

In a cold, dismal morning and in a room cluttered with cigar butts and other miscellany, a board of tellers told sleepy reporters, railroad men and other curious folk the fate of Frederick C. Dumaine Jr., who up until now has been president of the line.

The vote was 10,260,702 for the 11 elected McGinnis directors to 10,107,343 for the 10 elected Dumaine slate.

The votes were spread over 36 of the 42 nominees and a substantial difference was that the Dumaine vote was spread among 15 nominees while the McGinnis vote was held to the 11 successful nominees.

Below-Normal Temperatures Are Predicted

Washington (AP) — The Weather Bureau said yesterday its 30-day outlook for the period from mid-April to mid-May calls for temperatures to average below seasonal normals from the Central Rocky Mountain area eastward to the Mississippi.

Above normal temperatures are predicted along the Pacific Coast and also in the Southeast, while near normal values are expected in areas not specified above.

Above normal rainfall is indicated for the Gulf States, Mississippi and Ohio Valleys, and the Middle Atlantic States. Near normal precipitation is expected in other areas.

Storms Hit Shipping

Palermo, Sicily (AP) — Violent winds and heavy seas battered shipping yesterday from Malta in the mid-Mediterranean to the Riviera. Freshish Easterly snow storms hit many parts of Italy.

Ike Promises To Keep Troops In Europe

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower reassured France yesterday that American troops will stay in Europe as long as needed to repulse any "threat to that area."

The President's declaration, issued from his vacation headquarters at Augusta, Ga., was addressed to the prime ministers of the six nations involved in the projected European Defense Community.

But U. S. officials clearly indicated it was aimed at bolstering the French government's politically precarious move Thursday toward action on EDC after years of delay.

EDC calls for a unified European army, including German troops to defend the continent against any Russian aggression. France's delay in ratifying it has been due in large measure to fear of a rearmaged Germany.

President Eisenhower's pledge brought a prompt response from Paris, where a spokesman said Premier Joseph Laniel's Cabinet was entirely satisfied that Eisenhower's assurances were fully valid as Britain's earlier pledge of closer ties with EDC.

Britain promised Thursday, not only to keep troops on the continent, but to put an armored division and Royal Air Force units in EDC forces.

In the U. S. Congress yesterday there were rumblings that Eisenhower had not consulted legislative leaders on his pledge, although he said the essential elements of his position had been discussed with both Republican and Democratic leaders.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) foresaw a possible "great debate" rivaling the one three years ago over President Truman's decision to send troops to Europe. Concerning the Eisenhower pledge, Mansfield said:

"There may be a great deal of merit in the proposal but why weren't leaders of both parties on the Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees consulted?"

Chairman Wiley (R-Wis.) of the Foreign Relations Committee said he knew nothing of the Eisenhower promise until he read news stories about it. But he said that there was apparently "nothing new" in the policy, and he felt sure that if anything new would come to Congress with it.

It was understood that France sought both the American and British guarantees as a precondition to the French Cabinet's decision Thursday to discuss on May 18 the date when the French Assembly should begin debating EDC. It is believed the debate probably will begin about May 25.

Only France and Italy have not yet ratified EDC, which Eisenhower described in his message as "the solid core of unity" upon which rests the defense of Western Europe. The four nations which have already ratified are Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg and West Germany.

Eisenhower made it clear in his message the United States regards the North Atlantic Treaty as "an enduring association of free peoples."

Oppenheimer Loyal, High Source Feels

Washington (AP) — A high administration official yesterday expressed the opinion that Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer "is a loyal American and should not be barred from government work if he is not a security risk."

"If the man is not a security risk, if he is not subject to blackmail," this official said, "he should have a right to work for the government."

The official, who talked to newsmen with the stipulation that his identity not be disclosed, said it is up to a special panel to decide whether Oppenheimer is a security risk.

The famed nuclear physicist, who is credited with having played a leading role in developing the atomic bomb, was barred from further access to U. S. atomic reports last December pending a review of his case. The Atomic Energy Commission said it had received information that he was a security risk.

Oppenheimer denied he was a risk and asked for a hearing. His case is now being reviewed by a special panel headed by Gordon Gray, former secretary of the Army.

The administration official said the big question is whether the government should take the position that past association with Communists, even if forewarned, should forever after preclude government service.

"I do not believe it should," he said. "I believe each case should be considered on its merits, particularly when dealing with an ideology which during the 1930s had such an appeal among the intelligentsia and various other groups."

The official, who has been familiar with the Oppenheimer case since 1948 when the scientist was questioned by a congressional committee, said he had found Oppenheimer to be "cooperative, impressive and responsive" under questioning.

More recently, he said he has had an opportunity to see the full file on the physicist and it presents "an extremely difficult problem."

"Dr. Oppenheimer, at least on the evidence I have seen, in my opinion is a loyal American," he said. "On the other hand the information in his file is voluminous and makes a 'prima facie' case of security risk."

"But I am sure Dr. Oppenheimer will get a fair hearing."

The same official said disclosure of the security probe was made on the initiative of Oppenheimer and his friends, and not on the administration's initiative.

Doctor Removes Tapeworm From Woman's Eyeball

Seattle (AP) — Rare growth of a tapeworm in the front of a woman's eyeball, clearly visible through the colorless cornea, was reported yesterday by a Seattle doctor.

The doctor, who declined use of his name, removed the tapeworm in a two hour operation the day after the woman noticed a painful itching in the eye.

The woman is expected to regain normal vision within a few days. Her doctor said she would have been blinded if the worm had not been taken out as soon as it was discovered.

The worm probably was in egg form in contaminated food the woman ate, and traveled through the blood stream to lodge in the eye, the doctor explained.

Mundt Hopes To Induce McCarthy Not To Question Witnesses At Senate Probe

Washington (AP) — Senator Mundt (R-SD) said yesterday he has "suggested" a plan by which he hopes to induce Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) to refrain from claiming the Senate's televised investigation of the McCarthy-Armey row.

Mundt also told newsmen:

One—He was signing seven subpoenas for seizure of batches of financial accounts, long distance telephone records, correspondence, and a variety of documents from witnesses he declined to name. He refused to say what bearing anyone's financial accounts might have on the inquiry.

Two—That nothing short of a plea of illness by McCarthy will be allowed to interfere with the scheduled start of the public hearings next Thursday.

The South Dakotan said McCarthy has sent word that "his mind was not closed, but that he thought he should have the right of cross-examining witnesses."

French Ground Forces Keep Vietminh From Widening Foothold Near Big Fortress

Hanoi, Indochina (AP) — French tanks, artillery and infantry kept the Vietminh rebels from widening their foothold only 800 yards from the heart of Dien Bien Phu yesterday. The French Union forces clashed with rebels at all points around the northwest Indochina fortress.

Despite constant harassment, the Communist-led rebels clung to the trenches they carved out of the northern part of the main airstrip in their closest approach to the fortress headquarters of Col. Christian de Castries, French commander.

Under cover of darkness the rebels planted more explosives under the steel matting of the airstrip and blew up stretches to pave the way for additional trench digging. The digging went on during the day under covering mortar fire from the Vietminh side.

By holding to the airstrip, the Vietminh threatened communications between the east and west strongpoints of the fortress. French army spokesmen said these strongpoints were being reinforced, however, by Union troops who managed to skirt the rebel trenches.

Paris (AP) — Col. Christian de Castries, French commander of besieged Dien Bien Phu, emerged from a long-range controversy last night as a brigadier general.

The Defense Ministry announced the battlefield promotion.

In making it, Premier Joseph Laniel's Cabinet reversed a decision of April 7 that the 50-year-old cavalryman should not be given the stars of a general until the battle for Dien Bien Phu is decided.

It was after President Eisenhower publicly commended De Castries March 24 as of general's caliber that the French first announced his promotion in the works.

Panel Heads Off Atomic Strike

Oak Ridge, Tenn. (AP) — President Eisenhower's atomic energy labor relations panel acted yesterday to head off a threatened strike of 9,000 workers at four plants, two of which produce atomic bomb materials.

The panel, headed by Cyrus W. Ching of Washington, stepped into a wage dispute after union-management negotiations conducted by federal labor mediators had collapsed.

Volume Of Jobless Claims Dips Again

Washington (AP) — The Labor Department said last night the volume of unemployed claiming jobless benefits declined the week of April 3 for the fifth straight week but the total is higher than any other corresponding post-war week.

Would Step In If No Other Way Possible

By Russell Brines

Washington (AP) — A high administration official expressed belief yesterday that American forces should be used to save Indochina in what he called the unlikely event that all other means fail to hold it against the Communists.

The anonymous statement brought an immediate congressional storm and statements from Senators Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Humphrey (D-Minn.) that it went beyond administration policy as they know it.

The official said that he did not believe French troops would pull out of Indochina but if they did, the U. S. Government would be obliged to send military forces into the peninsula. He talked to newsmen with the specification that he should not be identified by name.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) demanded that the official be identified "so that Congress can question him to find out who had what he is speaking for."

"The United States as the leader of the free world," the informant said, "cannot afford further retreat in Asia"—a phrase used recently by President Eisenhower.

"I think we can do it without American boys," he added.

But if there is no other way, "we must take the risk of putting American boys" in Indochina, even though it would put the administration in a "politically unpopular position."

The official said he would support such a move, but noted he was answering a hypothetical question.

"Now is the time for all of us to take a firm position to secure Indochina," in view of its strategic position as gateway to Southeast Asia, he said.

"If we don't," the official added, "it is going to be too late two or three years from now to take the risks."

Sen. Humphrey, a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, said "If this is a statement of administration policy, it goes far beyond what we have been told in the Senate," including recent briefings by Secretary of State Dulles.

Sen. Hickenlooper said in a separate interview: "I have no indication that it would be administration policy to send troops into Indochina under any circumstances."

"If we have such a policy, I'd like to know it but I don't think we have."

Sen. Mansfield said, "I disagree with his statement that American troops may be needed to save Indochina."

The official said he believes the administration "is going to take the position it feels has to be taken and bring along our allies and inform public opinion" to support what it decides is necessary.

Radar-Equipped Plane Delivered

Pearl Harbor (AP) — A plane bulging with radar equipment was delivered to the Navy yesterday to extend America's 24-hour defense screen across the Pacific by several hundred miles.

Adm. Felix B. Stump, Pacific Fleet commander, took ceremonial delivery of the first WV2 Lockheed Super Constellation assigned as a watchdog over millions of square miles of the Pacific.

Described as the Navy's new "airborne eyes," the WV2 packs more scientific equipment than any other known aircraft.

Some six tons of electronics equipment fill the big four-engine plane and bulge out in giant plastic radar domes above and below.

Loan Deals Resulted In Inflated Rents

Washington (AP) — Thousands of apartment house dwellers around the country are paying inflated rents, a federal housing official said yesterday, because the builders got bigger government-insured loans than they needed.

Sen. Capeworth (R-Ind.), whose Senate Banking Committee is opening a public inquiry Monday, said builders may have reaped a half billion dollar windfall under the 1942-50 emergency rental housing construction program, designed to stimulate apartment house building during and after World War II.

Investigators say some builders pocketed the difference between the oversize loans and the actual construction costs, and then proceeded to scale rents to cover repayment of the full loan.

The housing official said there is little chance that rents in such cases can be reduced, or overpayments recovered.

Power Line Broken When Limb Falls

A "hot" Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. line fell along the First St. area at 9:25 last night.

Stroudsburg fire companies were called to the scene. Firemen, however, were powerless since direct water spray cannot be used to fight electrical "fires."

Power linemen shut off the current and began switching in alternatives to provide service to homes in this area.

A PP and L workman said customers in the Stroudsburg-Henryville region were affected by the line trouble and temporary service interruption. Service was restored to nearly all customers less than an hour later.

The 4 k.v. and 12 k.v. wire was apparently knocked down by a falling limb, workmen said. Residents of the area reported seeing the limb fall across the wire.

Firemen said last night that the two-day rainfall may have been a "blessing in disguise." The steady drizzling rain greatly lessened the danger of a serious grass fire in the First St. area where the power line fell, firemen said.

Easter Weather Forecast: Some Cloudiness, Warmer; Today Expected To Be Cool

"Some cloudiness and warmer" was the official weather forecast for Easter as announced last night by the U. S. Weather Bureau. The forecast was for both Eastern and Western Pennsylvania and Upper New York State.

Steady, drizzling rainfall came down over the Pocono Mountains region throughout the day yesterday.

It was a continuation of rainfall which began Thursday night. The fall was slight in most areas.

In Stroudsburg an official measurement showed a total of .48 of one inch for both days—.26 of an inch on Thursday and .22 yesterday.

Rainfall at Mount Pocono Airport measured .85 of an inch for the two days with .22 inch on Thursday and .63 yesterday.

Temperatures stayed in the mid-40s during both days. Stroudsburg official thermometers registered 43 degrees at 8 a. m. yesterday with a high of 48 degrees during the day.

It was still 48 degrees at 8 p. m. yesterday. Temperatures were slightly lower in the mountain regions.

Three hours later, however, official thermometers in Stroudsburg showed a reading of 60 degrees—the highest for the day or night period.

Official weather forecasts for the Poconos suggested skies might clear today. The weatherman predicted it would be "partly cloudy, windy and cooler during the day, clearing and colder tonight."

Tornadoes Belt Southeast States; No Deaths Noted

By The Associated Press

Violent winds struck a series of blows in the southeastern quarter of the nation yesterday.

Tornadoes or whipping winds hit at least 11 communities in Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

No deaths were reported and only one serious injury was listed.

But a number of houses and barns were wrecked, trees were uprooted and power lines were toppled.

Tornadoes dipped down at Panama City and Crystal Lake in Florida, and at Skipperville, Tallahassee, Wetumpka, Hunter Station and Gordonville in Alabama and near Enterprise, Ala.

Mobile, Ala., and Fort Valley and Eastman in Georgia were strafed by strong winds.

frost tonight, the forecast said. High temperatures today will range from 52 to 58, the weatherman said.

Boy Breaks Arm In Fall From Train

A 13-year-old East Stroudsburg boy who reportedly fell from a train, was treated for a fractured left arm in the General Hospital dispensary Thursday.

The lad was identified as Carl LaBar, 17 Roller St. He was released after treatment.

Also treated that day was James Sorfass, 9 months, of Fabels Flats. He bruised his right side in a fall out of bed.

A Stroudsburg Engine Co. employee, Elwood Brink, also was among the recent dispensary patients. A Saylorsburg resident, Brink had a particle from an enemy wheel removed from his eye.

85-Year-Old Newfoundland Resident Dies

Newfoundland—Cornelius Friebele, 85, died in a Honesdale nursing home, yesterday morning.

He was born in Newfoundland, son of the late Christian and Augusta Helling Friebele. A painter by profession he had lived most of his life here.

Surviving are three sisters, Amelia, Newfoundland; Lucy and Mrs. Annie Simons, Mountainhome; five nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Monday at Frey funeral home, South Sterling, at 2 p.m. Rev. Frederick Fulmer will officiate. Interment will be made in Newfoundland Moravian Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday after 7 p.m.

PTA Invites School Boards Of Five Townships To Attend Discussion At Brodheadsville

Brodheadsville—The Parent-Teachers Association serving Chestnut-hill and Ross townships will hold a special discussion on May 20 at the school here.

Purpose of the discussion will be to help residents of both townships understand the present financial structure of the area for school purposes. According to PTA President Clarence Smith, Saylorsburg RD 1, the meeting will be open to everyone in the area who wishes to attend.

Specifically invited to attend the meeting, however, will be school directors from Chestnut-hill, Ross, Hamilton, Eldred and Polk townships. These five townships made up the now-defunct Pleasant Valley Joint School district. Legally, Pleasant Valley ceases to exist the last of June this year. It was officially dissolved on Friday, March 12.

Decision to hold the panel discussion at the regular May PTA meeting was reached at Thursday night's meeting, according to Smith.

It was at this meeting that John Mills, supervising principal of Chestnut-hill school, gave a "background" report on the costs of jointure and the present situation in the school system.

The books for the first time will be printed, instead of hand-written.

In the months past, clerks using the newly-purchased grafotype machinery and addressograph equipment made up metal plates which carry all pertinent assessing data—name, location of property, job classification, whether resident or non-resident owner, unit number, and description of property. The plates were then run through the addressograph and the data automatically printed on specially-prepared pages.

The pages were then bound into books—two for each district.

Old-style method was to have the local assessor copy last year's book into this year's two blank books by long-hand. It was a tedious job, subject to error in copying, more expensive and slow.

The assessors are getting the new books far ahead of time. Commissioners said they are planning to move the entire assessing program ahead, since so much of the job is already done simply by presenting local assessors with books already printed.

Only changes that will be necessary will be any required changes in the dollar assessment figure on a property; and the addition or deletion of assessed units which have appeared since last year or have changed hands.

Commissioners said yesterday they want the books completed by mid-summer, and back in the chief assessor's office. (The law sets a maximum deadline of Aug. 1.) This will enable scheduling early appeal dates, and in turn will allow commissioners to pass along valuable assessment information to school directors and local districts much sooner than ever before.

Chief Clerk Harry Taylor said commissioners plan to move the addressograph and grafotype machinery into a cleared room in the Courthouse basement.

This will leave more space on the first floor for setting up the new permanent record assessment system.

G. H. Everett, Canadensis, Dies At 72

George Henry Everett, 72, of Canadensis, died last night at 7:40 at the General Hospital. He had been in failing health for the past five years, and seriously ill since Thursday when he was admitted to the hospital.

A native of Mountainhome, he lived all his life in the Canadensis section of the county. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Everett.

He is survived by one daughter and two sons: Mrs. Melvin Smith of Canadensis, and Walter H. Everett, Brooklyn, N.Y.; and George O. Everett, Canadensis. Three grandchildren, one sister, Mrs. Jacob Hoke Sr., of Cresco, and several nieces and nephews also survive.

Funeral services will be held on Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. at the Lanterman funeral home. Rev. Harold N. MacMurray will officiate. Interment will be in the Moravian Cemetery, Canadensis. Friends may pay their respects at the funeral home on Monday from 7 to 9 p.m.

John W. Uhl, 49, Dies Of Heart Attack

John W. Uhl, 49, died suddenly at his home, 22 Fetherman St., Stroudsburg, at 5:45 a.m. yesterday.

Cause of death was listed as a heart attack. He was the son of John and the late Kathryn Niepert Uhl and was born in Tobyhanna. He had lived in Stroudsburg most of his life where he was employed as a ribbon weaver.

He served in the U. S. Army overseas during World War Two. He was a member of Eagles Lodge 1106, Stroudsburg.

Besides his father who lives in Stroudsburg, his survivors include his wife, Josephine Simon Uhl, at home; a son, William John, at home; two sisters, Mrs. Lillian Beaver, Easton, and Mrs. Lydia Himmelberger, Stroudsburg; one brother, Floyd, Paterson, N. J.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at William H. Clark funeral home. Rev. William F. Wunder will officiate. Interment will be made in Laurelwood Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday after 7 p.m. Monroe County Joint Memorial Committee will perform military rites at the cemetery.

Legislators Seek More Data On Depot

Hits Closing Of Baltimore Installation

Washington (AP) — Rep. Samuel N. Friedel (D-Md.) said yesterday he's not satisfied with the Army's explanation of why the Signal Corps Depot at Baltimore is being closed and wants more information from T. A. Young, special assistant to the secretary of the Army.

The Army has announced it will close the depot for economy reasons and transfer its activities to Tobyhanna, Pa.

Gov. Theodore McKeldin and Maryland's congressional delegation had appealed to Washington to keep the depot open. In letters to the governor and the delegation Young said that with a reduced work load use of two depots in the East Coast area is not "economically sound."

Friedel maintained Baltimore was "getting the raw end of the deal."

He said the Department of the Army, when funds were sought in 1950 to build the Tobyhanna depot, had assured the Maryland delegation the facility would not affect the Baltimore depot. Friedel also contended Baltimore is a "critical area." The Department of Labor calls it a surplus labor area.

Young said the end of the Korean War was one reason for closing the depot but Friedel maintained the Indochina War has a bearing on the situation.

As for the employees at the Baltimore depot, Friedel said the Army has not said where Baltimore personnel transferred to Tobyhanna would be housed. He also said employees in Baltimore who are unable to accept reassignment to Tobyhanna cannot get "reduction in force" benefits under existing regulations.

The Army has said efforts would be made to get other jobs for Baltimore Depot workers.

Police Hunt Hit-Run Car

Kresgeville—Lehigh State police were called in yesterday morning to investigate a hit-run auto accident which occurred between here and Kunkletown at 8:25 p.m. Thursday.

Police said Morris Kresge of Gilbert reported his car, operated by his 17-year-old son Gerald Kresge, was sideswiped. A south-bound car reportedly struck the Kresge vehicle, then continued on its way. Damage, police said, was estimated at $25. The investigation is continuing.

Three County Navy Recruits Training At Bainbridge, Md.

Three Monroe County men are undergoing 11-week recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Md.

They are James R. McWilliams, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. McWilliams, Henryville RD 1; Bruce L. Shook, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Shook, 850 N. Fifth St., Stroudsburg, and Raymond C. Ejds, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester L. Ejds, 15 Linden St., Stroudsburg.

The trio enlisted April 5, according to the U. S. Naval Recruiting substation at Easton.

McWilliams attended Pocono Township School at Tannersville, then worked as a quiller at an East Stroudsburg RD silk mill. Before that he was employed as a proof pressman for five months in East Stroudsburg.

Shook and Ejds both attended Stroudsburg High School.

Shook was later employed at an East Stroudsburg printing company.

Ejds was graduated from school in 1953. He had been a member of Varsity S Club and the school chorus. He was then employed as a heavy pressman at an East Stroudsburg manufacturing plant.

Surviving are two sons, Richard and Harold Jr., Philadelphia; one daughter, Mary Ellen Hunt, Philadelphia; four grandchildren; one brother, Clarence, East Stroudsburg; one sister, Mrs. Edna Griffin, Columbia, N. J.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. in Lanterman funeral home. Rev. Harold Eaton will officiate. Interment will be made in Stroudsburg Cemetery. Friends may call Sunday from 7 to 9 p.m. at the funeral home.

Mrs. Gregory, County Native, Expires At 83

Mrs. Lizzie Bonser Gregory, 83, of 126 N. 5th St., Allentown, a native of Monroe County, died Thursday at Sacred Heart Hospital, Allentown.

Mrs. Gregory was the widow of George Gregory. She was born at Gilbert. Her husband was engaged in farming at Gilbert for several years. She was a member of Salem, Evangelical and Reformed Church, Gilbert.

She was an aunt of President Judge Elhan A. Gearhart of the Lehigh County Orphans Court.

Surviving are two brothers, George Bonser, of Weissport, and John Bonser, of Lehigh. She has a number of nieces and nephews in the Bangor-Penn Argyll area.

Dr. Floyd W. Shafer will be out of town from April 17th to April 22nd.—Adv.

Truck Strikes Cars, Pole; Driver Held

A Newburgh, N. Y., truck driver was committed to Monroe County Jail yesterday morning on a charge of "driving too fast for conditions."

The man, Charles Wilson Cobey, 35, was operator of a tractor-trailer truck involved in a crash-up with two parked cars and a telephone pole at 8 a.m. at the intersection of Routes 209 and 190 in East Stroudsburg.

Committing officer was Patrolman Travis Seese. Seese reported the following details from his investigation:

Cobey was driving westward on Route 209. At the intersection, his truck smashed into two parked cars.

First of the cars was owned by Foster Ladlee. The second car was owned by Charles Keiper. Both men live at 609 N. Courtland St., located at the intersection.

The truck swerved away from the second car crashup, smashed into a pole owned by Bell Telephone Co. The pole was sheared off near its base.

Police said the Keiper car was believed to be a "total loss." Damages to the Ladlee car and telephone company equipment had not been estimated last night.

Cobey was given a hearing before Justice of Peace Herbert G. Bonser, East Stroudsburg. He was committed to county jail at 9:50 a.m.

The tractor-trailer vehicle he had operated was attached by the borough, pending payment of damages or posting of a bond double the amount of damages to the two cars and utility company's property.

ETERNITY IS BORN

Flowers and trees burst into a symphony of color and beauty. Meadows and woodlands put on bright robes of green. Spring is the symbol of new life. But as time moves on, nature grows old. Blossoms fade and wither; leaves turn brown and fall. At last, nature buries herself under a blanket of ice and snow. Is this our fate? Does our existence fit into the same pattern of nature: birth, life, death? Do we spend only a few score years on earth, and then are no more? In churches all over the world this Easter morning, the cry comes ringing back: "HE IS RISEN! HE IS RISEN!" A new and glorious hope comes from the empty tomb—the hope of everlasting life for all who will believe. Come to church this Easter morning. Let us thank God that for you and me, eternity is born.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Consistories Hear Talk On F-M Seminary

Kunkletown—Dr. Allen Meek, president of Franklin and Marshall Seminary, Lancaster, was guest speaker here at the annual banquet of the combined Consistories of Brodheads-Hamilton church.

Meeting in St. Matthew's Church here, the group heard Dr. Meek explain work at the seminary and a history of the school.

Rev. Adan Bohner was elected president during a meeting which followed. Also named are Frank Shick, vice president; George Costenbader, secretary-treasurer; Edgar Hamm, delegate of the Synod and Amzi Altemose, alternate.

Reports were given by each church. The Hamilton group announced removal of stucco from the building, repointing of stone and landscaping now in progress.

Brodheads-Hamilton members said an addition is contemplated in the rear of the Sunday School rooms for lavatories, kitchen and all-purpose and storage quarters.

Mount Eaton members said they are nearing completion of a basement renovation program. The quarters will house Sunday School rooms and wash rooms.

Altemose was named to chairman the retirement fund now being arranged by the four congregations.

Members of the local Ladies Aid Society prepared and served the dinner to 54 persons. Present from Brodheads-Hamilton were:

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kresge, Mr. and Mrs. Amzi Altemose, Calvin Beehler, Mrs. Lizzie Fetherman, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hamm, Charles Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Doney and guests, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shoemaker.

From Mt. Eaton in Saylorsburg were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shick, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Greenamoyer, George Miller, Samuel Budge, Mrs. Clarence Budge and son, Earl, Mrs. Anna Serfass.

From Christ Hamilton Church were Mr. and Mrs. Willard Shoemaker, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reaser, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reaser, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Longshore and son.

Present from Kunkletown were Mr. and Mrs. Purie Borger, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Borger, Mr. and Mrs. George Costenbader, Gordon Nicholas, Miss Alma Derhammer, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Barlieb, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Oxford Schaeffer, Mr. and Mrs. Arlington F. Smith and Leon Barlieb.

Those who attended Thursday's meeting of the Pocono Union Ladies Aid Society were Mrs. Martha Henry, Mrs. Morton Freeland, Mrs. John Transue, Mrs. Vida Siekler, Mrs. Sallie Henry, Mrs. Steward Bush, Mrs. Blanche Temples and the hostess, Mrs. Lettie Wood.

Last Friday Mrs. Carl Loxem, of Swiftwater, called at Mt. Rest Farm, home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Succow.

Pvt. Albert Transue spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Transue, and his wife, who resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Werkheiser. Pvt. Transue has been transferred from Camp Carson, Colo., to Camp Aberdeen, Md., where he is taking an ammunition supervisor's training course.

Both Sunday School and church were well attended at Pocono Union on Palm Sunday. Rev. Spangenberg spoke on "The Triumphant Entry" and the choir sang an appropriate anthem accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Post. A large cross, made by Paul Barry, was received by the pastor with thanks and replaced a smaller one in the chancel. Palmus, the gift of Mrs. J. E. Wood and Mrs. B. Temples, were distributed after the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Werkheiser, of Stroudsburg, were weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Strunk.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bennett and daughter Doris and Bob Hallett were dinner guests at the home of the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. Franzreb, of Saylorsburg. A large number of other relatives and friends were also present.

Clyde Transue, of East Stroudsburg, was a supper guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Transue on Sunday night. His wife had been caring for her father, P. Clark, of Unida, N. Y., who was seriously ill and died on Sunday morning.

Sunday callers at Mt. Rest Farm, home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Succow, were Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, of Reiders; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Doll and daughter Doris, and Mrs. Avon Doll and daughter Linda.

On Sunday R. Mackey, of Philadelphia, was a caller at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barry.

The 115th annual session of the East Penn Conference (Ev.) will convene in Harrisburg on Wednesday afternoon, April 21, at 2, and adjourn on Sunday afternoon, April 25. Rev. C. F. Spangenberg, local pastor, will be in attendance, as will Mrs. Paul Barry, the alternate delegate.

There will be no worship service that Sunday, April 25, and Sunday School will be in charge of Mrs. Richard Post, assistant superintendent.

GUESTS HAPPIER CHURCH INCOME HIGHER WITH NEW MONROE TABLES

The above comments are typical of the thousands we receive from church people who have found in Monroe Folding Banquet Tables the happy solution to their problems in setting up and serving church dinners, etc. And the experience of Mrs. X could be that of any of those thousands of women connected with churches as well as many other institutions who have purchased Monroe tables, chairs, etc. There are probably more than one "Mrs. X" right in your community to whom we could refer you.

While helping serve a banquet to raise funds for her church a few months ago, Mrs. X noticed that the guests were crowded and uncomfortable and that it was actually impossible to seat all guests at one time.

Later, Mrs. X saw and answered one of our ads and was amazed to learn from our reply of the many exclusive advantages and the low, direct prices offered only on Monroe Folding Tables. After receiving the new Monroe Tables ordered by her church, Mrs. X wrote us that her members and guests are happier and with the increased attendance at their church affairs, their income is higher since they added their new Monroe Tables.

We know you, too, would like new, modern Monroe Folding Banquet Tables for your church, lodge, club, school, etc. Write us today for catalog and special discounts to institutions and organizations. Terms up to 2 years can be arranged, 6 months with no interest or carrying charge.

Lloyd Jones Renamed Pike School Head

Milford—R. Lloyd Jones has been reelected to his post as superintendent of schools in Pike County. Jones was renamed to Pike County by unanimous vote of 48 school directors who attended this week's quadrennial directors' meeting. Absent from the meeting were 12 directors who could not attend, due to employment.

Directors also gave unanimous consent to a proposal which voted a $1,000 yearly salary increase for Jones.

In an afternoon meeting of the Pike County School Board, Bennett Strait, Delaware Water Gap, was reappointed to his position as supervisor of special education for Pike county in association with both Monroe and Wayne Counties.

For every person killed in a U. S. auto accident, about 35 are disabled, permanently or temporarily.

Bridal Shower Is Held For Nancy Behler

Swiftwater—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Coffman was the scene of a bridal shower for Miss Jean Van Dyke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Van Dyke Sr., of Waldwick, N. J., whose marriage to Lloyd Coffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Coffman, will take place on May 8 in Waldwick.

An umbrella, trimmed with crepe paper and streamers was suspended from the ceiling over the dining room table on which the gifts had been placed. After the opening of the gifts, family movies were shown, including some of Sherwood Coffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coffman while in training at Camp Lejeune. Refreshments consisted of sandwiches, pickles, olives, cakes, beverages and candy.

Miss Van Dyke is a cashier at a bank in Glen Rock, N. J., and Mr. Coffman is employed at Strickland's Mountain Inn.

Included in Saturday night's gathering were Mrs. Thomas Van Dyke Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Van Dyke Jr. and a daughter Cathie, of Ridgewood, N. J.; Rev. and Mrs. David Laquintano and sons David and Paul, of Clarks Summit; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kresge, of New Hope, R. D.; Mr. and Mrs. William J. Coffman, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coffman, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Coffman, Donald, Brenda and Billy Coffman, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kresge, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Coffman and children John and Paula, Lloyd Coffman and Miss Van Dyke.

Crown Seekers Class

Crown Seekers Sunday School class will meet Monday night, 7:30 in the guild room of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church. Hostesses will be Jessie Davis, Mrs. Emma Dailey, Mrs. Blanche Shafer, and Mrs. Jennie Swineford.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

It better clear by noon-time or there will be a lot of women stuck with a lot of Easter eggs intended for an Easter egg hunt. About seven of them scheduled for this afternoon at the latest count.

And speaking of counting — the number of eggs that the Easter bunny hides, and the number of eggs that the children find seldom come out even. Usually, there are quite a few eggs unaccounted for since two-legged bunnies don't make a map of where they're hidden.

However, there was a year up in Bartonville, I remember, where the children had collected more eggs than had been hidden — including several that had been hidden so successfully that they had found them until now. Everybody opened the eggs quite gingerly that year, I imagine, since a year old egg would be something.

Though, I understand that 100-year-old eggs were considered quite a delicacy in the Orient. But by 100 years even the smell would have evaporated away, I suppose.

While they're looking for Easter eggs, the youngster might also keep their eyes open for arbutus, anemones pink and blue, and violets. However, the youngster who pauses to admire the flowers is likely to end up with an empty basket. At that it might be worth it.

Mrs. Pennell Analomink PTA President

Analomink — All officers were re-elected at the meeting of the Analomink Parent-Teachers Association held on Tuesday night. Mrs. Vernon Pennell was elected president; Mrs. Addie Weidman, vice president; Mrs. Melvin Bush, secretary; and Mrs. Lillian Wagner, treasurer.

A committee consisting of Mrs. John Schimmel, Mrs. Chester Van Vleet, Mrs. Roland Fritz and Mrs. Pennell was appointed to arrange for an outing in the near future. Raymond Harding, principal of Clearview School, reported that the hot lunch program was in a satisfactory condition. The lunches will continue for the remainder of April.

After the business meeting, Mr. Harding showed colored slides of a trip through England and France taken last summer while he was touring with his wife and son when they visited Mrs. Harding's parents in Manchester, England.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses: Mrs. Chester Van Vleet, Mrs. Ernest Cramer and Mrs. Max Hess. Others attending were Mrs. Lillian Wagner, Mrs. Addie Weidman, Mrs. Ronald Fritz, Mrs. Clair Metzgar, Mrs. Chester Van Vleet, Mrs. Ernest Cramer, Mrs. John Repsher, Mrs. Russell Transue, Mrs. Melvin Bush, Mrs. Vernon Pennell, Mrs. Garrison Cramer, Mrs. John Schimmel, Mrs. Wendell Wicks, Mrs. Max Hess, Miss Florence Bates, Miss Betty Smiley, Mrs. Richard Snyder, Raymond Harding, Herman Pensyl, Marie Bush and Billy Schimmel.

The next meeting will be held May 11 when a covered dish supper will be served.

Progressive Women Hear Anthony On Conservation

Saylorsburg—The Progressive Woman's Club of Saylorsburg at their meeting Wednesday night at Chestnut Hill auditorium, Brodheadsville, heard James Anthony, a member of the faculty of Stroudsburg High School, speak on "Conservation."

He spoke of both physical conservation of soil, water, minerals, and air, and biotic conservation which includes forests, fisheries, wild life and human resources. Accidents, wars, sickness, slums and child labor take their toll of human resources, even as fire takes the toll of forest and animal resources, he said. Conservation is a means of combating waste.

Mr. Anthony was introduced by Mrs. Susan Stulgaitis, chairman of conservation of natural resources. Other entertainment included Wayne Slaughter and his musical saw with Lew Stanley as his accompanist. The program was introduced by Mrs. Grant Knowles.

Mrs. Elmer Veety presided at the business meeting when the club voted to contribute $5 to the U. N. Contest winners.

A report of the Scout Tea sponsored by the club was given by Mrs. Thomas Reinhart. Four mothers will assist as leaders, she said: Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mrs. Chrissie Mosteller, Mrs. Kenneth Auckey, and Mrs. William Kresge. The first meeting for both Brownies and Intermediates will be held after school on April 23 at the Chestnut Hill auditorium.

Mrs. Ann Shafer explained the X-ray unit which will visit that section on two separate dates to take chest X-rays which will be examined for evidences of tuberculosis, heart disease and cancer. The first visit will be on May 3 beginning at Polk Township school, Kresgeville, from 9 until 10:30; at Kunkletown from 11 until 1:30; at Brodheadsville at Nova Sportsman from 2 until 2:30; and at Chestnut Hill school from 3 until 5. The mobile unit will pay a second visit on May 13 at the firehall in Saylorsburg.

Mrs. Clarence Budge, on behalf of the Teen-agers, thanked the Woman's Club for assistance in getting started. The group at present has a membership of 80, she said, with their own officers and chaperons.

Club members were invited to attend the meeting of the Monroe County Federation of Women's Club to be held in Stroudsburg on April 28. The Junior Woman's Club will be hosts, and the afternoon meeting will be held at the Stroud Community House, and the dinner meeting at night at the Penn-Stroud.

During the social hour, Mrs. George Haffler asked members to introduce the new members of the club. Each new member was presented with a flower, tagged with her name.

An electrical demonstration will be presented at the May meeting, with the education and youth conservation in charge. Members of the committee are Mrs. Raymond Van Why, Mrs. Albert Nelson, Mrs. John Mills and Mrs. LeRoy Hinton.

ITU Auxiliary Has Nomination Of Officers

At the meeting of the W.I.A. No. 113 to the I.T.U., the following officers were nominated for the 1954-55 year:

President, Emily Severson; first vice president, Mary Meixell; second vice president, Lucy Forster; secretary-treasurer, Emma V. Knob; recording secretary, Veronica Michaels; chaplain, Hilda Kitzman and sgt.-at-arms, Ruth Hermanns.

Election and installation will be held at the regular meeting in May. Mary Meixell, label chairman, reported many new union label products for members to purchase. Veronica Michaels and Vida McElwain were appointed as the committee to secure a place to hold the annual banquet in June.

Members will meet next Wednesday night at the home of Hilda Kitzman, Lackawanna Trail, to make cancer dressings and the following Wednesday at the home of Mary Meixell.

Committee for May was appointed as follows: Ann Rung, Jennie Salvo, Ann Laise and Sara Frantz. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting and a gay Easter table, with an old fashioned Pennsylvania Dutch Easter Egg Tree, made by Felma Merwarth, as the centerpiece, spring flowers and individual filled Easter baskets for the members. Others on the committee were Marion Lee, Anna Mae Kleinle and Lillian Morris.

Farewell Party For Claytons At Grange Meet

Cherry Valley—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clayton, who are moving to Pittsburgh on Monday, were given a farewell party by the Cherry Valley Grange at the meeting in Steamsville last night. Mr. and Mrs. Clayton have been active members of the grange.

Master Richard Seidof presented them with a gift from the grange, a paperweight made of coal, inscribed with their name and with a thermometer mounted on it. Various members paid tribute to the high regard in which the Claytons were held. After the meeting, a small party with refreshments was held in their honor.

Richard Seidof presided at the meeting. The charter was Frank Majestic.

The grange voted that officers missing four meetings in succession will be asked if they wish to resign.

Mrs. Edward Kresge was accepted as a new member. All the men were asked to meet at the hall on Saturday, May 15, to repair and clean the building.

The Cherry Valley Youth Fellowship was granted the use of the hall on May 5. It was announced that no grange dance will be held next week because the members will be attending the meeting at Raymondskill. The next dance will be held on May 8.

The members reviewed the program which they will give at Raymondskill on April 24. The lighthouse presented by the Pocono Grange last week was lighted during the meeting, and will be taken to Raymondskill. Mrs. Sheldon Schober is in charge of the program. Members wishing to go will meet at the Grange Hall where a chartered bus will take them to Raymondskill.

The members were also reminded of the Pocono meeting at Tannersville on Saturday. Next regular Cherry Valley meeting will be April 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Smale

Wedding Party Held In Elkton

Kungletown — Miss Louise Knecht, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Knecht, of Long Pond and Marlin Smale, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Smale of Kunkletown were married on Saturday, April 3, at Elkton, Md., in a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. J. N. Stingell.

The bride wore a white satin gown with a three-quarter tunic of French imported lace, long sleeves with points over her hands, and a scalloped neckline. She wore a fingertip veil and carried a bouquet of white wisteria, pompons and white forget-me-nots.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Madalyn Gower, of Hatboro, wore a strapless ballerina length gown of yellow roses, carnations and blue forget-me-nots.

The best man was Millard Gower, and his son David, was ring-bearer.

The bride's mother wore a dress of royal blue, and the bridegroom's mother wore a tan dress. They both had corsages of red roses.

The reception was held at Brodheadsville Fire Hall in Brodheadsville. Refreshments were served to 300 guests. A four-tier wedding cake formed the decorations for the refreshment table.

Miss Knecht is employed at the Brodheadsville Blouse factory, and Mr. Smale is employed at a factory in Wind Gap. They will make their home in Kunkletown.

Scout Board Burns Bond; Plans Council

The Girl Scout Council of Monroe County will hold its annual spring meeting on April 29 at Wyckoff's Recreation rooms with a pot luck supper starting at 6:30. Mrs. L. M. Browning of the National Girl Scout headquarters will be the guest speaker. Her topic will be "Take Your Council into World Scouting." She will be accompanied by Mrs. John Williamson of Scranton, chairman of Region 3.

Plans for the council meeting were discussed at the meeting of the Girl Scout executive board on Thursday night at the Girl Scout House with Mrs. LeRoy Koehler presiding.

Highlight of the board meeting was the retiring of another $500 bond on the Girl Scout House, largely through the efforts of the Girl Scouts themselves in the cookie sales. Mrs. Harold Edwards announced officially that cookie sales this year totaled 8,820 boxes.

Mrs. Koehler announced a sectional meeting of Region 11 to be held in Scranton on April 28. Chaperones for the Wyckoff Senior Girl Scout trip to Cape Peninsula in Canada were named at the meeting. They will be Mrs. Wendell Wicks and Mrs. George Wakefield.

Mrs. Claude Leister presented the following as new troop leaders: Mrs. Chrissie Mosteller, Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mrs. Hazel Acker, Mrs. William Kresge, Mrs. Fred Fatzinger, Mrs. Morris Murch and Mrs. David Mazer. The Brownie and Intermediate Planning board's were given permission to have skating parties for their respective groups. The Brownies will hold theirs June 5 and the Intermediates on May 11.

Roger Arker presented the name of Mrs. Clayton Gearhart as a new member of the training committee. A new training course will be started on Monday, May 3, at the Girl Scout House from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Miss Ann Marie Holdorff

Engagement Announced

Two Birthdays Celebrated At Dinner

Bushkill—A dinner party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horton Stettler in honor of Lester Litts, Jr. and Ralph Stettler who celebrate their birthdays respectively April 7 and April 27.

Present were Mrs. Marshall Keiper, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Litts and children Deborah, James and Ralph, Ralph Stettler of Bushkill, Mr. and Mrs. Turrell Keller, Mrs. Lester Turner and son Barry of East Stroudsburg, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Stettler.

Yesterday was the darkness before the dawn... the hush before the jubilant awakening... the shame and grief before the triumph and rejoicing. Good Friday, to me, is a day somehow similar to the slumbering of the little brown seeds in the mud of early spring—a drab, dreary time that must be endured if we are to have the beauty, joy, and hope of Easter. But today is the day of anticipation. It is the day Christ was mourned, and the thoughts of those who loved Him were centered upon the garden tomb to which He had been taken from the cross.

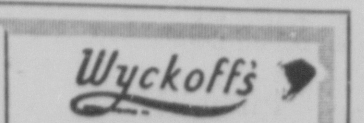

Even though this particular page of our Christian history was turned many years ago, this intervening day continues to be one of anticipation. We are all waiting for the festivity and fulfillment of tomorrow. Just as resurrection meant reunion for Jesus and His followers, Easter today means reunion to many families. Just as the resurrection originally brought hope and faith renewed to all Christians, it brings joy and festivity today to us all.

Homes everywhere are filled this day with the bustle and excitement of last minute preparation. There are eggs to be colored, baskets to be filled, hams to be baked, flowers to be arranged, and odds and ends to be purchased from the butcher, baker and candlestick maker. Across the way from me as I write a florist window is lighted, and one can see lilies, waxen and fragrant, standing with bowed heads at the peak of a lavish mound of flowers. Down in our main store, the watchmen are sweeping up after a busy day, and the small piles of dirt are brightened by strands of paper grass and crushed rainbows of jelly eggs.

From 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. today we will be here at Wyckoff's to serve you in our usual way... to see that you are provided with all of the trappings and accessories that make Easter observance spectacular and joyous. By the time the store closes, the candy department will be bare of the eggs, chickens, and chocolate crosses that belong exclusively to this glorious season. Our hat departments will look different too—and our fashion racks. Many of the blossomed bonnets and the smartest ensembles will be gone, to re-appear in the Easter parade.

Our store will be dark on Sunday, and the streets will be filled with people. The gentle Shepherd, holding a lamb in His arms, will look down from the Methodist Church upon the Main Street throngs. And there will be music—from churches of all creeds the length and breadth of our town. "Alleluia, Christ is Risen" the choirs will sing, and we will bow our heads, one and all, to say, "Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name."

Tomorrow is Easter. May your day be a happy one of many blessings. And when the Easter candy is gone, and all the baskets are scattered to the winds, may the glory still be upon you. And upon us.

VFW To Press Congress For Laws To Curb Reds

Congress will be given a comprehensive plan to control Communists, and Gov. John S. Fine, the Republican and Democratic party chairmen and the 1955 General Assembly will be asked for more state police and better pay for the entire force, according to Elmer D. Christine, Stroudsburg, state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The VFW leader, who is also Monroe County district attorney, said the overseas veterans' organization will provide a new insurance plan for its members and its Ladies Auxiliary, effective immediately.

These actions were approved by the VFW's council of administration, composed of elected state officers and district commanders, at Uniontown, last weekend. Congress will be asked to "stop stalling and to speed up legislation to prevent the spread of Communism and to mete out just punishment to Communists through the VFW's comprehensive plan that includes:

One—Making wire-tapping evidence admissible evidence in court.

Two—Strengthen the Smith-McCarthy act by clarifying the law to prevent another such decision as that by the Pennsylvania Supreme Court which held invalid the conviction of Steve Nelson, Pittsburgh Communist leader, on sedition charges.

Three—Extend provisions of the Smith-McCarthy act to include members of the Communist party, instead of only its leaders.

Four—Amend the Constitution of the United States by making possible convictions on charges of treason in peace time.

Five—Grant President Eisenhower's request to deny citizenship to any one convicted of sedition, including native Americans.

Six—Banishing to an island those convicted of Communist activities.

Christine said all "Pennsylvanians are concerned about highway accidents and although the Commonwealth has established the highest standards to prevent motor vehicle accidents, more state police are needed. State patrolled highways have increased from 13,499 miles in 1929 to 41,000 in 1953.

"Whereas in 1937 there were 1600 men on the state police force, there are now only 1900. During the same period Pennsylvania registered motor vehicles increased from 2,091,690 to 3,584,246.

"The increase in police does not truly reflect a substantial increase since 115 of the increment are assigned to patrolling the 345-mile long Pennsylvania Turnpike.

"State police pay scales range from $1482 a year for student recruits to $6894 for only a few majors. The vast majority of the force is in the grade of private,

Sponsor Uneasy Due To Dispute

Pittsburgh (AP)—I. W. Wilson, president of the Aluminum Co. of America, told a meeting of stockholders yesterday that the controversy between Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and TV-commentator Edward R. Murrow has caused Alcoa some uneasy moments.

Wilson said that Alcoa, Murrow's sponsor, "is giving and will continue to give very serious thought" to the sponsorship of TV programs.

He said the position of Alcoa due to the controversy is "not a comfortable one for your company or at least for your management."

party chairmen to take cognizance of this request and to incorporate it in their party's platform in the 1954 general elections to be held this November," Christine said, and added "if this is necessary."

"We will communicate with Governor Fine and the major political

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

SATURDAY, APRIL 17, 1954
March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Opportunity, advancement in life, but indications indicate that you have a rational attitude and avoid a tendency toward over-optimism of over-enthusiasm.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Things may pile up suddenly, there may be irritating situations, be forewarned and thoughtful. Watch your health and keep your temper down. Don't lose it.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—You will do well if you exercise tact and reserve in business matters. Some exciting new conditions. Late afternoon may find things changing a bit. Don't be too hasty.

June 21 to July 20 (Cancer)—Some influence from ill will if not properly controlled. The family concerned about the practices of your household, family, community. Act with sound reasoning, ask God's help in all.

July 21 to August 20 (Leo)—Conditions may threaten, but if you guard against being look and be well informed in all problems before you. Consult those who can lighten weighty burdens. Be steadfast.

August 21 to September 20 (Virgo)—The unexpected, but do not be upset or change schedule needlessly. Take all philosophically, and be the better for your experience. Home and social activities favored.

September 21 to October 20 (Libra)—Today may lead you about to get along with a variety of conditions. Some can be easily controlled with proper effort. Another of focusing over anything will only retard you; be hopeful.

October 21 to November 20 (Scorpio)—This might be a propitious day in which to take up that new matter.

Sports Trail
Some Clubs
May Defy
Glove Rule

By Whitey Martin
New York (AP)—If the report that several clubs intended to defy the rule requiring players to bring in their gloves from the field when the opposing side is retired is true, you begin to wonder a little about the intelligence of some of the men who are running major league baseball.

Here is a sensible rule, made to protect the players and at least help to prevent a game from being won or lost through circumstances not concerned with the merits of the two teams.

More than once a player has tripped over a carelessly tossed glove, missing the ball or twisting an ankle, and more than once a ball has struck a glove and been deflected, the incident affecting the outcome of a game. They might as well scatter tombstones out there.

The players naturally gripe a little at the rule, as it means they must break a lifetime habit, and ball players, like everybody else, look upon any change from established routine with a jaundiced eye.

It's just too bad if an athlete left stranded on second base has to trot all the way to the dugout to pick up his glove. Why, that extra exercise could shorten a man's career, figuring the number of extra steps he might take over a season.

The only player you feel sorry for under the new rule is the one who strikes out with men on bases to end an inning. He used to just duck his head and head for his position, hoping nobody would notice him. Now he has to turn and face the crowd as he goes back for his glove.

If Leo Durocher were of a suspicious nature he might think the new rule was aimed at him personally. Durocher for years has had an established routine at the start of every Giant inning.

He would walk to the third base coaching box, pick up the discarded glove of his third baseman, pound his fist into the pocket three times, walk over to the bag and kick it three times, then return to the box, toss down the glove, and be ready to master mind.

If the Giants don't win the pennant this year he'll blame it on the rule which prevents him from carrying out his superstitious rigmorale. We don't know what he blamed the Giant misfortunes on last year.

Anyway, the players who object to the new rule probably would howl like timber wolves and threaten a law suit if they stumbled over a match box left on a sidewalk.

Our friend, Homer Amundson of Tacoma, Wash., is building himself what might conceivably be a tremendous problem.

Amundson is a fight trainer, and manager, and has under his wing two youthful brothers who threaten to make their presence felt in the heavy-weight ranks in the not too distant future.

They are the McMurtry boys, Pat and Mike. Pat, the elder, turned pro not so long ago and has won all his starts, usually by quick knockouts.

Mike, of Idaho State, last Saturday at Penn State won the National Intercollegiate heavyweight crown, beating Bob Hinds of Wisconsin by decision in the finals.

Mike undoubtedly will turn pro when he finishes his schooling, and Amundson believes he is ready.

If both prosper among the pros as their tutor hopes they will, there'll come a time when they might have to meet if one of them is to become champion. They might have to have two champions. It's happened in other divisions.

Correlation, Derby Future
Book Favorite, Gets Test
In $30,000 Gotham Stakes

New York (AP)—Correlation, California's future book favorite for the Kentucky Derby, gets his first big preliminary test today when he faces 15 other sophomores in the $30,000 added Gotham Stakes at Jamaica.

Errard King and Fisherman are the brightest of 11 other Derby hopefuls who will contest the race over a mile and sixteenth on what may be a damp, slushy track.

While Correlation was included in the bulky list of nominations yesterday there remained an outside chance he might not go to the post, postponing his New York debut until the $100,000 Wood Memorial a week hence.

The Florida Derby winner has been training impressively in workouts here but his trainer has been undecided about when the Robert S. Lytle speedster should make his first start. If it turns up mud, as expected, that may be the clincher for Correlation to run. He loves the stuff.

With or without the long-legged West Coast colt, it promises to be quite a race with Joe Gavegnano's Errard King and C. V. Whitney's Fisherman contenders to be reckoned with.

Errard King, to be ridden by Sam Boulmetis, drew the No. 1 post position with Correlation right beside him at No. 2. This is a big

Stadium Strategists Come To Aid Of Dykes With Success

Baltimore (AP)—Well, guess we'll throw Coleman at Detroit Saturday," said one of the Baltimore Oriole managers Thursday.

"Yeh," asked a colleague. "Old sore arm Joe seems to be back in shape. He'll murder 'em."

And so Jimmy Dykes, the paid Oriole manager, had another decision made for him. His master-minded helpers really came through for Jimmy Thursday.

Johnson Halts
Ward For 17th
Straight Win

New York (AP)—George Johnson, a hard-punching Trenton, N. J., middleweight, stopped Moses Ward of Detroit in 1:19 of the fifth round last night to rack up his 17th straight victory and the most important triumph of his career.

Ward weighed 158, Johnson 152½. The 23-year old father of four lost the first three rounds and then came from behind with a fierce and furious attack in the fourth round to drop the muscular Detroit auto worker.

The bell saved Ward, who was a 6-5 favorite to win this telecast 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

In the fifth the wiry Florida-born Johnson staggered his solidly built opponent repeatedly with smashing rights to the jaw. After Johnson connected with three rights flush on the jaw, Referee Pete Scalzo stopped the bout.

Former Yank
Selected In Surprise Move

Philadelphia (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies named Roy Hamey general manager yesterday, hopeful that the former New York Yankee official may be able to duplicate here the Yankee copyright: "How to win the championship in five successive seasons."

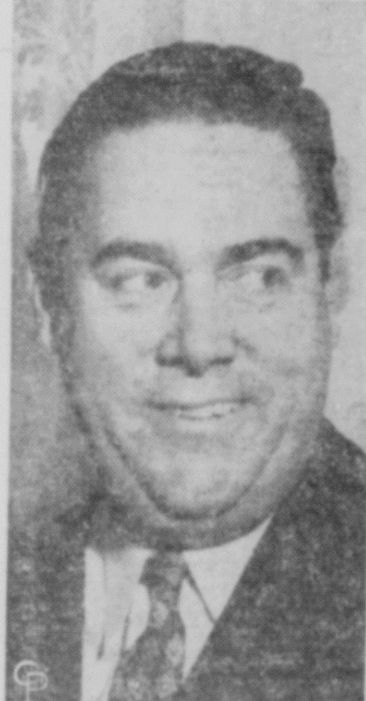

The appointment, four days after the 1954 pennant chase got under way, came as a complete surprise.

The Phillies have operated without a general manager since the death of Herb Pennock in January, 1948.

Hamey, a stocky, soft-spoken man who served a year as president of the American Assn. and four years as general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, also carrying the Pittsburgh Pirates, as well as many years in the Yankee chain had only one of his future steps outlined:

"I have been away from the National League since 1951," he said. "I have to study our player personnel and get together with Manager Steve O'Neill."

"For a while, at least through the first western trip, I'm going to travel with the Phillies and look things over."

O'Neill was not present at the news conference at which President Bob Carpenter of the Phillies disclosed Hamey's appointment.

But Carpenter left no doubt about where Hamey stands in the Phil's operation, specifying that Roy will "concentrate on the major league personnel department."

"He will handle contract signings, negotiate player deals and player purchases, be in charge of player advancement from the farm system."

"The manager and the coaches will come under his jurisdiction," said Carpenter.

The youthful president, who took over all top operating decisions after the death of Pennock, said he will continue to direct club business and administrative problems.

Roy has been assistant general manager of the Yankees since 1951, and Carpenter disclosed that he received formal permission—necessary under baseball law—to talk with him only yesterday.

They met Thursday night, agreed to terms and Hamey came to Philadelphia yesterday for the announcement.

Eisenhower Scorecard With Rabbit Foot Helps Senators

Washington (AP)—Clark Griffith was displaying a new memento for his already-crowded souvenir chest yesterday: A scorecard autographed by President Eisenhower.

"It's a very good scorecard," Griffith commented. "It looks like he kept a very accurate record of the game."

The game in question was the baseball opener on Tuesday in which Eisenhower threw out the first pitch and then watched the Washington Senators defeat the New York Yankees 5-3 in 10 innings.

Griffith, 84-year-old president of the Senators, said Eisenhower "wrote a little squib on top of the scorecard for me."

The squib said: "To Clark Griffith, from his old friend, Dwight D. Eisenhower."

While the Senators won that first game, the club has lost the next two. Which led Griffith to write Eisenhower that "You'd better come back. It looks like we've run out of lucky rooters."

Griffith disclosed, too, that a rabbit's foot belonging to the president's mother-in-law, Mrs. Elvira Doud, came in handy at the opening game.

"In the 10th inning, she leaned over to me and told me to touch it. I did and a minute later Mickey Vernon knocked a home run and won the game."

"That led to another souvenir: The rabbit's foot."

Derby Second
Choice Runs
In Prep Race

San Mateo, Calif. (AP)—Determine, second choice for the Kentucky Derby, runs in his final California prep here today in the $25,000 added Bay Meadows Derby.

The "gray ghost" will be favored in the mile and one-eighth spin. He will tote high weight of 126 pounds. Ray York comes out of a 10-day suspension to ride Andrew J. Crevolin's star galloper.

Six others, including Determine's stablemate, Allied, will contest the local derby. Allied must run a smasher if he is to accompany Determine to Kentucky.

Winner of his last five starts, all of them stakes, Determine is the leading money-winning thoroughbred of the year, with earnings of $139,950. He can add $15,800 by winning today's race. It has a gross value of $27,600.

Today's lineup in order of post position:
Fault Free (114) M. Volzke; Marso (111) R. Neves; Leterna (114) B. Pludow; Larks Music (117) J. Philippi; Hoback Sage (114) W. Harmatz; *Determine (126) R. York; *Allies (120) J. Longden. *A. J. Crevolin entry.

Lefthanded
Strategy Wins
For Yankees

New York (AP)—The New York Yankees are playing for money now, instead of just for fun, and they're looking like the same old Yankees.

The pitchers are pitching, hitters are hitting and sly old Casey Stengel is running official scorers dizzy with his "hunch" strategy and two-plateon lineups.

"It looks like the opposition is going to keep shooting left-handers at us all the time," the Yankee manager said yesterday while his team took advantage of the Good Friday schedule break. "I'd be a sucker if I didn't load the lineup with right-hand hitters."

The Yankees and all other major leaguers were idle yesterday because of the holiday. Action resumes on all fronts today.

Catcher Yogi Berra was the only lefthanded hitter in the lineup Thursday when Stengel sent his right-handed wrecking crew against the Philadelphia Athletics. The champs won their second in a row, 3-0, beating the A's lefty Alex Keiher. They dropped the opener to Washington.

Hack Clings
Near Third

Chicago (AP)—Stan Hack still is as close to third base at Wrigley Field as in his Chicago Cub playing days and only superstition will drive the new Bruin boss from his coaching box on the hot corner.

"If we need a change of luck," said Hack after his first National League managerial start before the home folk resulted in an 11-5 thumping by Cincinnati yesterday. "I'll put somebody else in the third base box."

Then the 15-year veteran of third base play for the Cubs added succinctly: "But it'll be superstition and not the fans who'll run me off there."

Hack, who succeeded Phil Cavarretta March 29, disclosed himself a man of decision against the Redlegs, specifically on pinchhitters for pitchers but his strategy backfired.

SPORTS ★ SPUTTERINGS

By Walter L. Johns
Central Press Sports Editor

The foreign importations continue to make an impression in U. S. rings, all helping to boost the interest and attention on boxing, which now is served up to living room sports fans virtually every night in the week.

U. S. rings have been a mecca for foreign fighters for many years and fortunes have been made in the heydays of boxing here.

Such famed foreign ringmen as Primo Carnera, Luis Firpo, Georges Carpentier and Randy Turpin made headlines and oodles of green stuff in invasions of the U. S. and appearances in stellar boxing attractions and title fights over the years.

The list today continues to grow and while Kid Gavilan of Cuba is the only present world's champion outside the U. S. to make appearances here, the stream of hopefuls runs thick and appears promising. Jimmy Carruthers, the world bantam king from Australia, already is being sought by promoters to come to the U. S. to defend his title.

The others, with the exception of Gavilan, came here hopeful of making enough progress to get a shot at the crown.

In recent months U. S. rings have seen Gustav Scholz and Hein Ten Hoff of Germany, Pierre Langlois of France, Nino Valdez of Cuba, Paolo Rosi of Italy, Eduardo Lausse of South America and Gerry Dreyer of South Africa.

Strangely, the foreign imports have looked pretty good, too, in their matches with hopeful American bidders.

Scholz, a middleweight, did a pretty good job against Al Andrews and Rosi was especially impressive in his bout with Eddie Compo. Lausse proved to be a rugged campaigner in his setto with Jesse Turner. In addition to the foreign fighters who have shown their wares in U. S. rings, there are several others who are ranked high in the world ratings and it is expected they, also, will appear here.

Included in this list are Alex Buxton, light heavy, of England; Gilbert Lavigne, welterweight, of France; Roy Ankarh, feather of West Africa; Robert Cohen, bantam, of France, and Yoshiro Shirai, flyweight king, of Japan.

The international competition is giving boxing a good boost, particularly because of the many fight cards that are being staged to take care of television commitments and the public's desire to see new faces and kayo artists.

Even In Army Jim Golliday Frets About His Left Leg

Berlin—One of America's top sprinters is doing some long distance fretting about his chances for the 1956 Olympics.

Track star James Golliday, now an Army private serving in Berlin, is worried about his left leg.

It's an ailment that has plagued the Negro speedster through his sensational racing career.

"The only thing I ever worry about is pulling a muscle," says Golliday. "It's always the left leg. I'd give a doctor a million dollars if he could fix it. There must be a way."

Golliday has won all but five of his 357 races. Each time he lost he pulled a leg muscle.

His most crushing failure came in the 1952 Olympic tryouts in Los Angeles. He ran last after pulling a thigh muscle.

Golliday, a supply clerk in a battalion headquarters for the Sixth Infantry, trains every day in a nearby gym.

"As long as I can get up a sweat, I can keep from putting on too much weight," he says.

He says he is eight pounds over his racing weight of 165 pounds.

Before entering the Army, Golliday completed two years at Northwestern University. His home is in Chicago.

This is Golliday's fourth visit to Europe. His previous trips were for foot racing. He has raced in England, France, Germany, Italy, Austria, Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Finland.

After high school, Golliday toured Europe with an AAU team and picked up 25 victories. His record in the United States includes title winning performances in AAU and national collegiate competition, the Michigan State relays and Big Ten indoor and outdoor meets.

The first time Jim ran a 100-yard race, he was clocked in 9.8

seconds. That was in 1950. The second time it was 9.6.

"The third time," he says, "was in the Nationals. I did 9.6, ran third and was rated third in the country. That's how come I made my first trip abroad. We went to Sweden."

Golliday's best time for the 100-yard sprint is 9.5 or two-tenths of a second slower than the record held by Mel Patton.

His best time for 100 meters is 10.3 or equal to the world record set by Jesse Owens in the 1936 Olympics in Berlin. Barney Ewell and Lloyd La Beach since have lowered the mark to 10.2.

Golliday's immediate hope is that the Army will transfer him to special services so he can keep up his competitive running.

He'd like to be in shape for the AAU team which will tour Europe this summer—if the Army is willing.

Greensburg, Pa. Boxer Suspended

Boston (AP) — The Massachusetts Boxing Commission yesterday listed 11 boxers as unavailable, chiefly for physical reasons, and reinstated seven others.

Those classified unavailable include:

Lightweight Jesse Keller, Greensburg, Pa., indefinitely "for the best interest of boxing, poor performance at Worcester."

Blind College Wrestler Has Great Ability

Albuquerque, N.M. — Partially blind Paul Tapia, 20, is the best 147-pound wrestler at the University of New Mexico.

Tapia, whose eyesight was impaired when he picked up a hand grenade on an Encino military reservation in 1943, learned to grapple at the Alamogordo School for the Visually Handicapped. He put in eight years at the sport. "I picked it up right away," says Tapia. "I didn't have any trouble. Some of the boys at Alamogordo can't see at all but they're good wrestlers."

Paul has a tougher time reading books. He holds them so close to his eyes they almost touch his nose. Yet he maintains the standard "C" marks required at the university.

Only recently Tapia suffered his first college defeat on the mat. He A&M, the eventual Skyline Conference champion.

Paul is on a state scholarship at the university where he's majoring in physical education.

"I'm going back to Alamogordo when I get out of college," he says. "I hope to coach track and maybe help with wrestling. That's what I want to do more than anything else."

Meanwhile Tapia has two more years in college.

"If we had nine guys like Paul, all we'd have to do is show up," says New Mexico coach Lou Culien.

Sox Option Zauchin

Boston (AP) — The Boston Red Sox yesterday optioned first baseman Norbert Zauchin to Louisville. Zauchin, 24, husky right-hander, rejoined the Sox at spring training after two years in the service.

State's Adam Kois Winner Of Ring Honor

State College, Pa. — Penn State's National Collegiate champion, 178-pound Adam Kois, is the 1954 winner of the Frank J. Goodman Trophy awarded annually to the boxing team's top performer.

He is the fourth National champion to win this distinction.

It was conferred for the first time in 1940 by Goodman, a native Philadelphian and former Penn State boxer.

Kois, who brought his career record to 21 wins, four defeats, and six draws by his title-winning effort in the Nationals, is a Uniontown boy and two-time Eastern champion who captained the 1954 team.

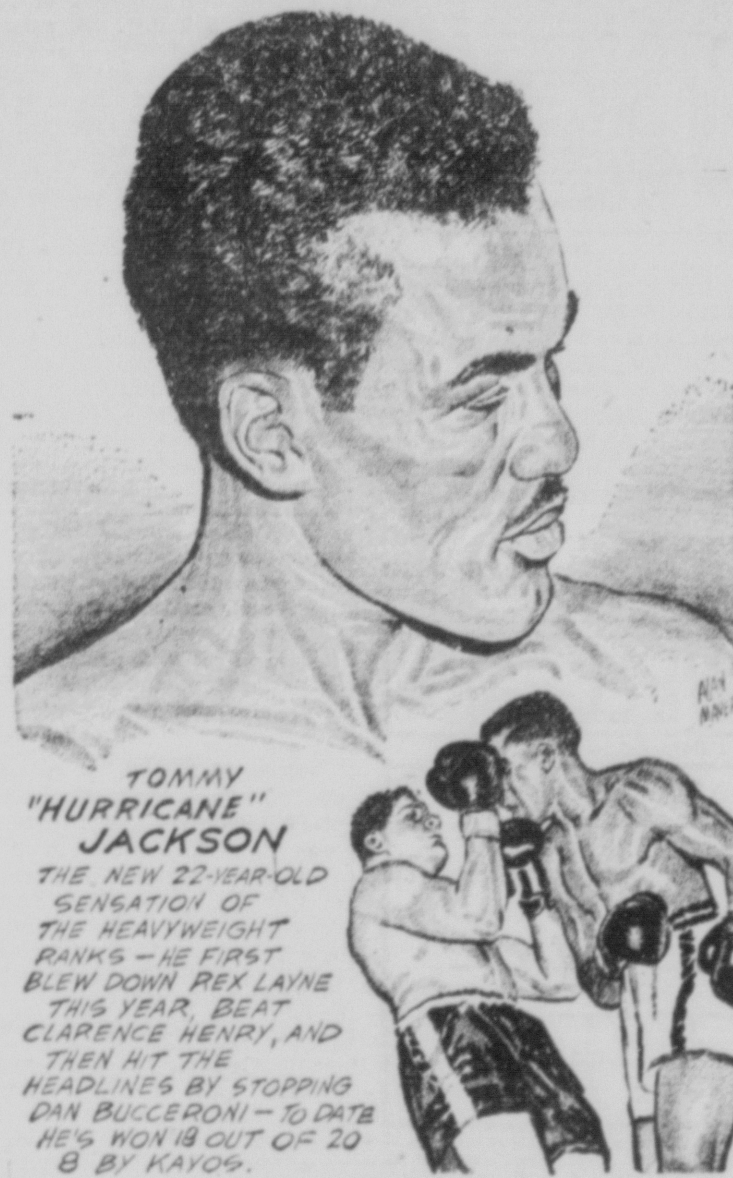

Former winners of the award follow:

Practice Game

Jack's Market will play a practice softball game with Empire Box at 6 p.m. Monday at East Stroudsburg Playgrounds. Managers of both teams urge all players to report.

Morgan State, Manhattan Are Relay Powers

New York (AP) — Morgan State and Manhattan College are favored to fight it out in the featured mile relay today in the collegiate track conference relays at Triborough Stadium on Randall's Island.

The event, eastern outdoor prep for the Penn Relays at Philadelphia the following weekend, has the same lineup as the former Seton Hall Relays but with a new name, and a new site and new sponsorship.

Morgan State will be bidding for a triple sweep in the 440 and 880-yard races and the mile.

The speedsters from Baltimore are expected to win the two sprint relays without any trouble but the mile may be something else.

Despite an injury to the team's ace, Vern Dixon, Manhattan will field a mile foursome which Coach George Eastment promises can do 3:14 or better.

With Tom Courtney as its key runner, Fordham is expected to be a factor in the mile, two mile or distance medley — whichever Coach Artie O'Connor wants to put his emphasis.

O'Connor says it'll probably be the two-mile.

THE LAST HOURS OF CHRIST'S LIFE were commemorated yesterday by hundreds of Monroe County residents. Typical of the groups attending special Good Friday services was this one. Cold, damp, drizzling weather failed to discourage those who heard traditional sermons on "The Seven Last Words From the Cross." (Daily Record Photo)

UMBRELLAS WERE EVIDENCE that most Good Friday churchgoers had come prepared for both the care of the spirit and protection against the common cold. Only one "Community Service" was held during the day. Some other churches cooperated by pooling their pastors who shared the pulpit at intervals. Turnout was listed as large. (Daily Record Photo)

Pope To Give Easter Speech

Vatican City (AP)—Mournful Good Friday services accentuated by dark skies, rain and thunder yesterday commemorated Holy Week's most solemn event—Christ's death on the cross.

Under the drizzling, sometime pouring rain, thousands of pilgrims and tourists from many countries joined Romans in services.

The Vatican announced that ennobling Pope Pius XII, 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church, would again give his traditional Easter Sunday speech.

For the first time since he was elected to his office in 1939 it will be given from the privacy of his Vatican apartment. Vatican radio will broadcast it to the world, at noon Rome time (6 a.m. EST).

Between 1850 and 1950, the U. S. population increased over six-fold—from about 23 million to 151 million.

Organization Of Jaycee Unit Here Scheduled Tuesday Night

Five Monroe County men visited the Allentown Junior Chamber of Commerce this week to get an on-the-spot view of "Jaycee" functions in action.

Visiting the Allentown group were Mac Below, Paul Mannix, Robert Widner, Peter Wyckoff and Charles Kirk.

The trip was another in a series of efforts planned by Monroe young men between the ages of 18 and 35 to establish a local "Jaycee" group.

Three meetings have been held in Stroudsburg for the purpose of gaining information about Jaycees. These meetings—at which Allentown and Bethlehem Jaycee members explained steps leading up to organization of such a group—have been held during the past three weeks.

On Tuesday, April 20 at 7:30 p. m., the local group will meet in Wyckoff's Tearoom for election of officers and complete organization.

To give the widest possible latitude to the elections, two nominating committees are now working instead of the usual one.

Players Group Rehearsing At College

Rehearsals for "The Visitor," a three-act melodrama, are nearing completion at State Teachers College.

The play will be presented on Thursday and Friday, April 29 and 30, in the college auditorium by members of the college dramatic society, Mask and Zany in association with Alpha Psi Omega.

Ralph Smith, assistant professor of speech, is the director. The play was adapted by Kenneth White from a novel by Carl Randou and Leane Zugsmith.

Two cast members—Tom Spillane of Tamaqua and Phil O'Neill of Allentown—also had parts in the Fall Mask and Zany production. Others who have been featured in past productions who also have parts in the current play are Sue Ackerman, Philadelphia; Larry Klink, Easton, and Don Harding, Scranton.

Making their first appearances in the current play are Sandra Fees of Lebanon; Jack Martin, Wilmington, Del., and Arleen Cornell, Woodhaven, Long Island.

Joy Swartley of Bridgeport, Pa., is acting as understudy.

A/3c LEON G. ALBERT is home on a 30-day leave after graduating from Radio Communications School at Scott Air Force Base, Ill. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Blake, East Stroudsburg. After his leave, he will report to California for reassignment.

Predicts Increase

Detroit (AP)—Top union officials predicted yesterday a new pay system at the Willys Division of Kaiser Motors Corp., eventually will bring a wage boost that will more than offset an immediate 5 per cent cut.

School To Reopen Monday Morning

Pocono Lake—Tobyhanna Township school classes will resume next Monday morning, April 19.

Schools were closed last Monday because of numerous cases of measles.

Willis Dunlap, supervising principal, announced the resumption date.

AEC Okays Research

Washington (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission announced approval yesterday of a $2,399,000 private industry research and development program looking toward the use of atomic energy for commercial power.

Tennessee produced almost five million tons of coal in 1953.

Cyclist Covers 20,000 Miles

Concord, N. H. (AP)—With a luxuriant beard waving over the handlebars, Walter Devine, 32, of Portland, Ore., pedaled into Concord yesterday having bicycled more than 20,000 miles on highways of 42 states.

Devine said he hadn't shaved since he left home May 5, 1952. His call here was to add Gov. Hugh Gregg's autograph to his collection. He said he expected to complete a tour of the 48 states in Pennsylvania, in four or five months.

Mrs. Customer wanted to modernize her old kitchen. But, since her house had no basement or utility room she couldn't have the job done properly because her old-fashioned water heater was an "eye-sore" in the kitchen, made dust and dirt. She called a MECO Water Heating Specialist and he quickly showed her that a handsome, clean, dustless, fumeless, flameless Electric water heater could be installed in a corner of the room away from the chimney and actually add to the appearance of her kitchen.

Result? She now is enjoying a beautiful, modern, brand new kitchen that will keep its new-look longer.
